Memphians Die In Auto Crash At Tuscola, Ill.

Two Memphians were killed and six others injured on Monday, July 2, at Tuscola, Ill., when the car in which they were riding was struck by another vehicle headed in the opposite direction.

The dead were Mrs. Melissa Newsom, 45, of 120 Vaal, and her 14-month-old grandson, Antoine Williams.

Injured were Melvin Williams, the driver of the car, his wife, Mrs. Gloria Newsom Williams, her father, Thomas Newsom, two other unidentified adults, and a young girl, Patricia.

According to a relative of one of the victims, the group was en route to Grand Rapids, Mich., to visit a sister of Mrs. Newsom at the time of the collision.

Bodies of the victims have been returned to Memphis. Montague Funeral home is in charge of final arrangements.

8 To Speak At Political Rally

All office seekers endorsed by the Shelby County Democratic club have been invited to speak at a rally scheduled to be held on the lawn of Howard H. Jackson's home, 1371 Volentine ave. Thursday, July 12 at 8 p.m.

The rally is being sponsored by the Ward 21, Precincts Three; and Four of the Shelby County Democratic club.

Speaking for gubernatorial Candidate Frank Clement will be Benjamin F. Blakey.

Political candidates appearing on the program will be Ross Pritchard, seeking a seat in Congress; Atty. Ira H. Murphy, a candidate for circuit court clerk; Atty. Russell Sugarmon and Jesse H. Turner, running for State Democratic Committeemen; Rev. Alexander Gladney, George Holloway Jr. and Fred Davis, seeking to be elected Shelby County Democratic Committeemen.

Chairman of the rally are George Holloway, Jr., chairman of Ward 21, Precinct Four; and Mrs. Sadie Clayborn, chairman of Ward 21, Precinct Three.

Unity Committee

The Unity Committee, a group of Negro citizens, met Tuesday night at 8 p.m., July 3 — at the St. John's AME church, 2321 Hunter. The Unity Committee met for the purpose of expanding and setting up the ward and precinct workers. There were about 150 business, civic and religious leaders, representing all parts of Memphis and Shelby County, in attendance at this meeting. The presidents of six civic clubs which have endorsed the Unity Committee's objectives were also present.

Rev. J. C. Richardson, 1579 Carr, pastor of St. John's Methodist church and secretary of the AME Conference for West Tennessee is chairman of the Unity Committee.

Rev. L. A. Blake, 1980 E. Person ave., is vice-chairman of the Unity Committee. He is minister of the New Salem Baptist church.

Rev. Richardson said: "More than ever before, the Negro is exercising his right of citizenship and assuming a greater role of individual responsibility. A few self-appointed Negro leaders, acting on selfish impulses, are not going to tell us how to vote. We are going to make up our own minds and support candidates because of their own merits."

Haywood Gaines will be coordinator of poll workers. He lives at 582 Gillis rd., and is president of Local 1791, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Gaines said: "The Unity Committee has embarked on a very worthwhile project for this community. Everywhere people are enthusiastic about what the Unity Committee is doing. More and more people are joining with us. We continue to add ward and precinct workers to our growing committee and will have every polling place covered on election day."

From Rev. Richardson: "The Unity Committee has endorsed Frank Clement for Governor and Lewis Taliaferro for Congress. We expect to endorse candidates for the County Commission."

LIFE MEMBERSHIP — Members of the LaRita Homemakers club made a $100 payment on a life membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People when the club held a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Alma Morris, 981 Alaska st., and on hand to accept the payment was Atty. Russell B. Sugarmon, jr. Seated from left are Mrs. Tecora Smith, Atty. Sugarmon, Mrs. Morris and Mrs.

Bernice Jackson. Standing, same order, are Mrs. Katherine Armstrong, Mrs. Ann Falls and Mrs. Julia Pleas. Absent members were Mrs. Janice Jean and Mrs. Cleo Draper. (Withers Photo)

U.S. MARSHAL — Luke C. Moore, former Memphian and son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moore, sr., of 169 Silverage ave., has assumed his duties as a U.S. Marshal after being sworn in as the second Negro to serve in such a position in the history of the country. Moore, a graduate of Booker T. Washington high school, lives in Washington, D. C., and was an assistant U.S. Attorney before he was named to the post by President Kennedy. (Withers Photo)

Memphis Branch Wins Top Award At NAACP Confab

The Memphis branch of the NAACP won a top award at the Freedom Fund Report and Awards dinner held in Atlanta during the organization's 53rd annual convention last week.

Memphis took first honors for branches with paid executives for the second consecutive year in the Thalheimer awards, given annually for the best and most effective local program by NAACP units. The awards were established in 1941 and bear the name of the donor, Dr. Ross P. Thalheimer.

First prize of $100 was given the branch for serving as a clearing house for food, clothing and relief for Fayette and Haywood counties, supervising the distribution of funds and truckloads of food and clothing sent from many sections of the country and the purchase and distribution of other food supplies.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

A voter-registration campaign in 1961 brought the total of Negro voters up to 72,000 and resulted in the employment, election and appointment of Negroes to commissions, positions and committees traditionally reserved for whites.

The Legal Redress and Education Committees succeeded in desegregating four previously all-white schools, appealed a school desegregation suit attacking the pupil placement law and handled some 318 sit-in cases.

Its Labor and Industry Committee sought increased job opportunities for Negroes in the public utilities, protested segregated facilities at International Harvester, and the local post office with partial success, filed complaints against bias in local job classifications, unions and lay offices of railroad employees with the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunities and against the discriminatory practices of the local Employment Security Bureau.

Branch membership was increased to 6,803, the largest in the South. It contributed $1,000 to the NAACP's national Freedom Fund.

Madame Young

Retires After 52 Years As Head Of Gorine College Of Beauty

After 52 years of personal administration, Madame Gold Silver Morgan Young has retired as the head of Gorine College of Beauty Culture, 449 Beale st.

Madame Young is being succeeded as manager by Mrs. Vassie B. Edinbourg of 568 Crump blvd., graduate of the school and physiotherapy instructor.

Announcement of Madame Young's retirement and the change in management was made by Rev. D. M. Grisham, chairman of the school's trustee board and for nine years pastor of Centenary Methodist church before his recent move to Nashville as a district superintendent for the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Edinbourg's appointment was made on the recommendation of Madame Young, but it will not become final until action is taken by the trustees at their regular meeting in September.

PIONEER IN FIELD

Madame Young is considered one of the last of the rank of beauticians who pioneered in the Negro field of beauty culture shortly after the turn of the century, and which included such persons as Madame C. J. Walker of Indianapolis; Sara Washington, apolis; Sara Washington, founder of the Apex Beauty Culture System, and Madame Annie Malone, founder of the Poro System of Beauty Culture.

The Gorine Hair System was started by Madame Young at Greenwood, Miss., 52 years ago. She moved to Memphis in 1919 and set up her school on Beale street.

Graduates of the school now operate a staff beauty schools all over the United States.

Madame Young will continue to live at the college. Active in community work, she has served on the advisory committee of Family Service and was a member of the Council of Church Women of Memphis.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Always interested in the underprivileged, Madame Young has offered scholarships to a number of girls through the years, who were unable to pay tuition.

Both Madame Young, and her successor, Mrs. Edinbourg, are members of Centenary Methodist church.

Missouri Blind Total At 9,600

ST. LOUIS — About 9,600 Missourians are blind, according to figures compiled by the St. Louis Society for the Blind.

That is about 2.22 per cent of the state's population. The statistics were gathered in 1960 and a society spokesman said that during the past two years the number undoubtedly has increased.

Of the blind, about 12 per cent were over 65.

Citizens Must Lead In Fight For Better Education System

Clement Lists Education As State's Best Tax Investment

Fourteen governors were elected in Tennessee during the first 52 years of this century.

But all of them combined did not allocate as much money for public education as Frank G. Clement's administration between 1953 and 1959. During his term in office, appropriations for education climbed 71.9 per cent from $88.3 million in 1952-53 to $117.2 million in 1958-59.

Public education in Tennessee's largest and most expensive single tax-supported service.

Davis Seeks Re-Election For 13th Time

Representative Clifford Davis, now in his 22nd year in the United States House of Representatives, holds the rank as Dean of the Tennessee Delegation. He is 5th in line of seniority among 437 members of Congress.

In the August Democratic Primary, Representative Davis will be seeking the Congressional post for the 13th time.

Representative Davis is the second ranking member of the Committee on Public Works. He is chairman of the important Flood Control Committee and has managed Public Works authorization bills approximating $6 billion. He is a member of the Subcommittee on Rivers and Harbors and Roads.

The Memphis Representative was one of the sponsors of the large Interstate Highway Act under which 41,000 miles of expressways, including Memphis, are being built. He served three times as chairman of the Special House Committee to Investigate Campaign Expenditures in Congressional elections.

He introduced in the House, and successfully managed the passage of the TVA Self-Financing legislation which makes it possible for Memphis to negotiate for return to the TVA system.

He is now chairman of the Select Committee making a two-year study of the acquisition of land by all Federal agencies and departments.

Representative Davis cast the deciding vote in conference in 1958 which authorized a bonus of one-half per cent of all funds allotted to states under the Interstate Highway Program which passed legislation prohibiting billboards on the Interstate Highway System.

Congressman Davis introduced the first bill authorizing the Mississippi Parkway from Canada to the Gulf. This past April a new concept for the parkway called the Great River Road was authorized and additional authorization requests are now before the Davis Committee.

Representative Davis worked 10 years to tax co-operatives which now enjoy unfair competition with tax-paying businesses. The 1962 Tax Bill which passed the House incorporated much of the Davis proposal.

He has testified for the Wilderness Preservation legislation and has been highly complimented by proponents of the Bill as well as by a number of newspapers.

For months Representative Davis has been investigating possibilities for the new Memphis air terminal being designed as a free port for international air travel and exports. He has been advised that it will be so declared when sufficient volume is attained.

Board Outlines Program To Improve Negro Lag

Last in Series
By M. L. REID

When Superintendent of Memphis City Schools E. C. Stimbert released figures in June showing the achievement level of Negro students in Memphis was not equal to that of whites, and that after the fourth grades they failed to keep pace with the national average, it was no surprise to principals or teachers.

For the past year, principals and teachers have been studying and discussing the situation. At the principals' meeting in August, Stimbert expects to hear them bring up some ways to solve the problem.

"It's not a situation that can be remedied overnight," Supt. Stimbert said, "but we expect next year to be a better school year."

"In the final analysis," he said, "achievement rests with the students. Some way must be found to show them what they can accomplish if they put forth the effort and use the facilities now at their disposal."

BOOST EDUCATION

Superintendent Stimbert is happy to see that the Negro community is alarmed at the present achievement level of students, but he wants to see all united to alleviate the condition, especially since he is the head of the system.

He wants for ministers to boost education from the pulpits on Sunday mornings. And he would also like for parents to set aside a space for children to study, even if it means turning off the television set in the evening for a while.

He has faith in the Negro teachers now employed by the Board, and believes they can do a better job of teaching than some have been doing.

NOT THE ANSWER

Asked if getting rid of those teachers considered "poor" and replacing them with others of greater intellects might improve the situation, he answered, "No, a student who wants to achieve can do so, despite poor teaching. Most of us have had teachers in our educational experiences who were not as good as others, but if we wanted to learn, we did."

"The average teacher here can turn out better students, and it is not necessary for them to go back to school and take other courses before this happens." They only need to become more dedicated to the tasks.

"What we need in Memphis is some Dr. Shepards," Stimbert said.

NEED SHEPARDS

He was referring to Dr. Samuel Shepart of St. Louis, Mo., who, when he became concerned that Negro children in the lower economic sections of that city were below the national average aroused the community to the point that all elements bestirred themselves and in record time closed the gap and now are above the national norm.

Dr. Shepart stimulated the children's interest in education by showing them what jobs they could fill in St. Louis if they properly prepared themselves.

The Negro educator, did this by field trips, pep talks and contests, and his methods gained him national prominence. He has been invited to Memphis to address the principals this fall.

Already the local board has outlined some methods to improve the Negro achievement lag.

They include: (1) Increased work with principals, faculty groups, and parent-teacher and parent-study groups.

(2) Employment of the best possible teachers and a continuing program of in-service training to improve all teachers.

(3) A program of instruction for the talented as well as for the under-achiever, so that all can go as rapidly as possible.

(4) Along with capable teachers, teaching supplies and equipment and the supervisory personnel demanded to give direction to the entire program.

(5) A determination on the part of the citizens of Memphis to see Program Page 2

Voters To Face 164 Names On Ballot

Voters in the Democratic and Republican primaries and the General election on Aug. 2 will be faced with 164 names on the ballot. It is believed that this is the largest number of candidates to be placed on a ballot during an election in the history of Shelby County. Deadline for filing: July 3.

DOWN FRONT!

THE RACE OF two salesmen ended in a wreck. One salesman, about 18 years of age, the other, about 10, were racing to an area to be the first to hawk their ice cream. The lad 18 had a ice-wagon mounted on a bicycle. The smaller boy pushed his ice-wagon. They collided. About five squad cars rushed to the scene. Oh for the life of a salesman.

VOTERS IN THE COUNTY are saying that Memphis voters are more concerned about making the right choice for Memphis than they are about playing good politics which would automatically be of benefit to both Memphis and counties as well.

BEN BLAKEY is smiling more than ever these days. He is saying, "I selected the winner in the gubernatorial race when a lot of the local boys were at the paddock looking over nags." Blakey is wearing a big "Frank Clement" button.

ATTY. IRA H. MURPHY is not necessarily anxious to oppose O. Z. Evers in the circuit court clerk race, along with the incumbent Joe N. Pless and seven other "clerkship seeking" candidates. One thing that is facing Murphy and Evers that is not necessarily facing other candidates in this race. Murphy and Evers will be depending almost entirely upon the Negro vote to elect them — to office. Other candidates can depend upon white as well as Negro votes to elect them to office. Which one will withdraw? Simple arithmetic indicates there are not enough Negro votes for both Murphy and Evers.

ATTY. HOSEA T. LOCKARD is the subject of "Cocktail Talk." We are laughing about the reasons advanced — why he decided at the last minute not to qualify as a candidate for the state legislature. Most reasons advanced are — just about as far from the truth as heaven is from hell.

REV. ROY LOVE is reported to have pitched hard for a congressional candidate. He is heard among a goodly number of local ministers. The candidate is not the young man whom the incumbent Cliff Davis says is hitch-hiking to Washington.

ATTY. RUSSELL SUGARMON is not sleeping very easily these nights. Nor are his days blessed with happiness. He is battling like a Trojan — to produce a winning candidate and save his political neck.

FRANK KILPATRICK is looking much better these days — that is — since he resigned as president of the Shelby County Democratic club. We do not envy the head of the club — Alexander Gladney — because "uneasy lies the head upon which the crown rests."

AWARDS LUNCHEON — Seventeen members of the home office staff of Universal Life Insurance company were honored for continuous service totaling 275 years at the firm's semi-annual luncheon last Friday. The pins were presented by B. G. Olive, Jr., first vice president and secretary, who spoke briefly. Dr. A. Maceo Walker, the president, received a diamond-studded pin for 35 years of faithful service. Gold sapphire pins were given those with 20 years, silver pins with rubies for 15, emerald-studded pins for 10, and silver pins for five. Awards were presented to from left, seated, Mrs. Bernice Bridgeforth, 5 years; Wilford Bell and Mrs. Louise

H. Polk, 10 years; Mrs. Willie Mae Alexander, Mrs. Dorothy T. Montgomery, Thomas J. Willis, vice president and assistant secretary, 15 years; Mrs. Ernestine F. Johnson, 30 years; and Mrs. Frances Hassel, 15. Standing, same order, D. H. Ross, five years, Jerry Carroll, Mrs. LeEleanor Benson and Mrs. Thelma B.

Moore, 10 years; Mrs. Martha H. Strong, 15 years; Mrs. Jimmie L. Mitchell, 35 years; Mrs. Timney V. Chambliss, 25 years; Mrs. Bessie L. O'Connor, 15 years; Dr. Walker, 35 years, and B. G. Olive, missing from photo to were Mrs. Bessie L. Gates, 5 years; and Mrs. Ida Dabney, 10 years, on vacation.

Negroes Are Victims $100,000 A Year For Block-Busting

An established "block-buster" who doesn't make $100,000 a year is "loafing," a Chicago specialist in moving Negro families into all-white blocks revealed in a Saturday Evening Post article published today.

Entitled "Confessions of a Block-Buster" and signed with the pseudonym Norris Vitchek, it also discloses the methods employed by some of these speculators to victimize both buyers and sellers.

An indication of the scope of the operation is the author's estimate that more than 100 are engaged in the business in Chicago alone.

He says that "block-busters" are also operating in Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York City, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis and other cities and in some of their suburbs.

"I specialize in locating blocks which I consider ripe for racial change," the author states. "Then I 'bust' them by buying properties from the white owners and selling them to Negroes — with the intent of breaking down the rest of the block for colored occupancy."

Vitchek explains that the handsome profits are accomplished by three methods: (1) By beating down the prices paid to white owners by stimulating their fear of what is to come; (2) by selling to eager Negroes at inflated prices; and (3) by financing these purchases at what amounts to a very high rate of interest.

The latter is said to involve an "easy payment plan" which would find Vitchek accepting $500 to $1500 down on an $18,000 purchase, with the remainder on contract.

"The contract is fulfilled," he says, "when I have been paid principal and interest totaling $36,000."

A default is no less to the speculator. He retains title to the property, until the contract is completed.

"I keep all the payments made until that time, evict the owners and either rent the building or resell it on the same terms," says Vitchek. He reports, however, that the number of Negro buyers who default is small.

Vitchek calls his business "a service industry," doesn't believe he is being hypocritical about things, and asks: "Can you honestly say the same?"

Highlander Center Makes A New Step

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — An international Highlander sponsoring committee is being formed, Dr. B. R. Brazel, chairman of the Highlander center board of directors, announced today.

He said "The Highlander idea, like a Phoenix rising from the ashes, has been born again in the Highlander Center," as final preparations were being completed for the July 7 auction of the Highlander Folk school land and buildings at Monteagle by the State of Tennessee.

"The significance of Highlander," continued Dr. Brazel, "lies in the thousands of awakened southerners Negro and white, who have returned home to become courageous and effective leaders of the student movements, labor and religious organizations; and quietly to teach their neighbors how they had learned at Highlander to translate democracy and brotherhood into everyday life."

Highlander Sponsors include Dr. Stringfellow Barr, Dr. John C. Bennett, Gordon R. Clapp, Dan W. Dodson, Lloyd K. Garrison, Dr. J. R. Kidd, Dr. Max Lerner, Kirtley F. Mather, Dr. Gardner Murphy, Dr. Fred Patterson, Clarence

Vernon Weaver Dies In Alaska, To Be Buried In Wynne, Ark.

Vernon Weaver, well-known in Alaska as a licensed brick mason and carpenter, died in Elmendorf Air Force Base hospital, Anchorage, Alaska, Saturday, June 30.

He was the brother of Mrs. Letitia Poston, teacher at Ford Road school, and prominent civic and fraternal leader in the community.

Mrs. Poston said arrangements had been completed for burial of her brother at Wynne, Ark., his native home, and where his mother, Mrs. Creacy Weaver, still lives. The body was being shipped by plane from Anchorage to Memphis, Fitzhugh Funeral home of Wynne is in charge.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Weaver went to Alaska before its statehood and began his trade as a carpenter, and brick mason during territorial days when Anchorage began attracting hundreds of Americans from the states.

LIVED IN WYNNE Son of the late John D. and Mrs. Creacy Weaver, Vernon Weaver was born in Wynne and spent his early boyhood in this community. At the

$4 Million Awarded For Research By Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society has announced that it is awarding $4,499,007 to scientists and research institutions throughout the country, July 1.

The total amount of Society grants currently in operation is $16,746,906.

"Five of the total grants made," P. D. Boardman, president of the American Cancer Society, Tennessee Division, Inc. said, "were awarded to institutions and individuals within Tennessee for a total of $75,000."

Of the 140 grants by the Society, 111 were awards for continued support of research already underway, and 29 were for new research projects. Grants for new projects called for an expenditure of $730,946.

The following scientists and institutions in Tennessee received grants, according to Boardman:

A lifetime Faculty-level Grant to Dr. Sidney Colowick of Vanderbilt university; Dr. Ronald Fraser of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, for study in the field of immunology; Dr. Jane Park at Vanderbilt university for investigating the metabolism of the cancer cell; an institutional research grant to Vanderbilt university for the stimulation of new ideas in cancer research; an American Cancer Society Scholar grant to Dr. Thomas Shockley of Meharry Medical college, enabling him to gain additional advanced training in biochemistry and genetics.

"In addition," Boardman said, "a Postdoctoral Fellowship has been made available to Robert H. Baum for the support of a program of study and training at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory."

DEFENDER ADVERTISING IS

The JACKSON Scene by Anna C. Cooke

Our recent holiday, the 4th of July, was very well celebrated in and around Jackson. As usual the many picnics were in force and one where many Jacksonians gathered was the Sportsman's Lake site in Madison County. Boating and fishing were the main events to make the day a most enjoyable one along with the good food and as I'm sure you've guessed, barbecue was the main dish. Pickled hot dogs were very well enjoyed too.

Another way to spend the fourth is at Church and it proved to be a spiritually enlightening one for many. It was on this day that the North Jackson District Conference of the Jackson-Memphis Annual Conference began its three day meeting at Mt. Pleasant CME Church in Madison County. The pastor of the ultra-modern church is Rev. Charles Winfrey while Rev. M. H. Burnett is Presiding Elder.

Also gracing the meeting was the Rev. B. Julian Smith, Presiding Bishop who resides in Chicago, Ill. Other officers in the district are: Mrs. Gladys Norris, annual conference missionary president; Mrs. Mary Barnett, district missionary president; Miss Ann Hutcherson, secretary of Mattie E. Coleman Circle; Mrs. Marie Williams, secretary of Children's Work; Leroy Cunningham, annual conference lay leader; Mrs. Garland Johnson, district lay leader; Mrs. Addie B. Roe, district director of Christian education; Miss Ione Lane, district youth director; Mrs. Maggie Nelson, district usher president; Mrs. Marion Jackson, district choir president; Mrs. Marie Penn, district music director; and Mrs. Allie B. Womack, District Pianist.

The theme of the conference was "Coming to Grips With the Educational Task of the Local Church."

YOUTH FETED With the sub-teen and teenage groups three youths who are moving their residence from Jackson was feted with a going-away party on the evening of the fourth, of July with Misses Jackie Rhea, Camille Long, Essie, Earline and Stella Shaw as hostesses. Those honored were Misses Paula Collins, Clotilda Smith and Gilbert Scott Herron. The party, with approximately 50 guests attending was held on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shaw on Stonewall st.

Spending the fourth holiday at home with her parents was Miss Barbara Garrett of Tusculum, Ala. She is attending Eddings School of Beauty Culture. Her sister, Miss Jean Garrett, is secretary to the Librarian at Lane college.

In addition to names mentioned last week attending the N. E. A. we also have from Democratic Committee; Russell Sugarmon, who is seeking a seat on the State Democratic; George Holloway, a candidate for the Shelby County Democratic Committee; and Rev. A. J. Campbell who was speaking for the candidacy of Sheriff M. A. Hinds, who is seeking reelection.

Presiding at the meeting was Mrs. Lewis.

Jackson, Mrs. Mary F. Stone, president of the Jackson City Teachers' association and teacher at Lincoln elementary school. Mrs. Harris Purdie, teacher at Washington-Douglas School and sister of Mrs. Stone is also in attendance.

SUMMER QUEEN CROWNED The crowning of Miss Lane College for the 1962-63 Summer session took place last Thursday morning in the Lane College chapel. Receiving the honor for making the highest financial report was Miss Claudette Morrow of Fayette county. She was crowned by last summer's queen, Mrs. Lucy Lee of Humboldt, Tenn.

Other contestants were Miss Lillie Sue Miller of Lauderdale county, Miss Mary Byum, out of state student, and Miss Christine Peterson of Haywood County.

A sum of $521 was raised. The project, under the direction of Mrs. E. M. Perry, is to renovate seats in the college chapel.

Last summer, the project was air-conditioned, the library which feels wonderful during this, extremely hot weather.

Other special numbers on the program were solos rendered by Miss Mary Rose Rogers and Henry Lockart. Lockart also played the recessional march to the tune of "Miss America." Mrs. Johnson presented gifts to the queen and her court. She is president of the summer school students. Miss Annette Hughes played the prelude.

Mrs. Rexie Hamlett Parker, a former Jacksonian, received the award at the close of the school year in South Bend, Ind. for having the most conducive situation to learning and the most attractive classroom for the first grade at Linden Elementary school.

Mrs. Parker is a graduate of both Merry High and Lane College, and the daughter of Mrs. Ollie Mae Hamlett of Jackson.

Men-Watch Your Dress Shirts...

It looks like a lot of men are about to lose their shirts! For "Shirtniks" (girls who like to wear men's shirts) have found something new to do with them. They cut off the collars and cuffs, turn up the tails and wear them backwards like an old-fashioned cobbler's apron, says Alma John, home arts specialist for Tintex.

All you need are several packages of home fabric dyes, Here's how to do it:

1. Cut off collar and sleeves. 2. Dye shirt a vivid color. The one so attractively displayed by our model is dipped in Tintex Royal Blue.

3. Bind neck, armholes and around bottom of shirt with yellow tape.

4. Fold up tails to make pockets and tack in position.

5. Cut flower petals out of clean white sheeting rags and dye an appropriate color. These were dipped in Forest Green. Select only dyes that contain new T-7 catalyst — pre-mixing and pre-straining will not be necessary.

Nurses Crown Queens In Coronation Rites

One student and a nurse were crowned when the Licensed Practical Nurses Alumnae and the Student Practical Nurses held their coronation ceremony at the Sigma Gamma Rho sorority house recently.

Mrs. Irma Gentry Moore received the crown for the LPN's while Mrs. Pauline Hawkins took similar honors for the students.

Crowning Miss Moore during the ceremonies was Mrs. Marzie Shay, the organization's first queen. Miss Selena Watson, an instructor, crowned Mrs. Hawkins.

First alternate to Mrs. Moore was Mrs. Julia Newborne while Mrs. Ida Jeans second alternate.

Other contestants were Mesdames Dorothy Middlebrooks, Novis Grandberry, Lester Randle and Bernice Morrow.

HISTORY OF PROGRESS

The history and accomplishments of the organization were related by Mrs. Florentine Johnson, LPN, of Kentucky VA hospital, and alumnae vice president.

Soloists for the program were Mrs. Anita Suggs and Mrs. Sarah Massey, both accompanied by Russell Wilson, who also gave an instrumental solo.

Mrs. Eddie Mae Potts was mistress of ceremonies. Two members will attend the National Federation of Licensed Practical Nurses at Wilmington, Del., this summer as representatives of the alumnae. They are Mrs. Marie Campbell, the president, and Mrs. Julia Newborne.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served by Mrs. Mildred Riley, hostess for the Pet Milk company.

Mrs. Gale Funches was in charge of the program.

"For he looked for a city whose Maker and Builder was God." — Hebrews 11:10.

INDEPENDENCE
A few days ago we celebrated the Fourth of July. We say "celebrated" because that is what most do instead of "observe."

But as one thinks in terms of this observation he simultaneously thinks of freedom and independence. In short that is what we observe. History reveals that man is just an independence-seeking organism. There has never been an area or era in history when he has not been deeply engaged in a pursuit of independence.

Soon after he came on the scene the serpent came to him — knowing his nature — and told him if he ate of that forbidden fruit he could free himself of ignorance and that was the note that sent Adam, the first man, down to defeat. But Adam was acting on an impulse that is in every normal human being — we all want to be free. Our every effort is toward escaping from the bounds that tend to enslave us.

ISRAEL'S BONDAGE

The children of Israel stood Egyptian bondage as long as they could but a time came when slavery was no longer popular or possible. They began to pray. God reached down and prepared one of the greatest diplomats the world has ever known. Time and time again he tried to soften Pharaoh's heart in interest of the salvation and freedom of these people of God but Pharaoh's heart would harden. Eventually God himself stepped in and independence resulted.

The latest victims of slavery cried out "...and before I be a slave I'll be buried in my grave and go home to my Lord and be free!" Only the sick can be enslaved. The man who allows himself to be enslaved by appetite or habit is a sick man. He should have control over things and not be controlled by them.

BORN REBELS

A little baby will rebel against restraints. Tender years or months tell him that he ought to be free. The older he gets the more intense becomes this idea of freedom.

Often in the pursuit of freedom or independence man reaches the point of explosion — he can no longer be enslaved and that which can otherwise find no means of expression comes out in the vilest terms. But man just wants to be free. There are points at which man can be stopped but those who really want independence will not be stopped.

A man wants to free himself from ignorance finds no sacrifice too great. A man wants to free himself from economic bondage and he works day and night until his goal is reached. A man wants to free himself of the various stigmas of life and he forgets himself and the physical price attached thereto and works until such freedom is gained.

The old Psalmist said, "I will not be content until my soul rests in Thee." When it comes to freedom and independence man thinks only in terms of the ultimate. There is no middle ground. He wants to be free or else! This is the point in man's behavior at which there is no stopping.

Hospital Births Bring Drop In Infant Deaths

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Approximately 98 per cent of the babies born in Illinois during 1961, were born in hospitals, according to statistics released by Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health.

Hospitals are required to submit reports of all maternity activities to the department. Any unusual circumstance, death, infection or

Rites For Shaw

Funeral services for Elmo Shaw, Jr., 751 N. Claybrook, a postal worker in the Special Delivery section of DeSoto Station, were held at the Mt. Moriah Baptist church on Tuesday night with the pastor, Rev. Robert W. Norsworthy, delivering the eulogy.

Mr. Shaw was discovered unconscious by a daughter at their home last Thursday afternoon when she tried to awaken him. When a neighbor attempted to arouse him unsuccessfully, his wife, Mrs. Earline Shaw, a nurse on duty at John Gaston hospital was summoned.

Mr. Shaw was carried to John Gaston hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

'CHEST PAIN'
Mrs. Shaw said her husband had remained home from work and complained of a pain in his chest. The doctor had been called, she said, but he arrived after her husband had died. An autopsy has been performed on the body, she said, but no report issued.

Mr. Shaw was a graduate of Manassas High school. He entered the Army and served on Okinawa during World War II. After being discharged, he studied at Griggs Business college. He had been in postal service for 11½ years and belonged to Masonic Lodge 204.

Aside from his wife, he is survived by their four children, Vincent, 13; Sandra, 11; Ronald, 10, and Kevin, three; his father, Elmo Shaw, Sr., Oakland, Calif.; and two brothers, Otis Shaw of Oakland, Calif., and John Henry Shaw, Syracuse, N. Y.

Interment was on Wednesday morning in the McCully cemetery at Oakland, Tenn. Southern Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

JOE'S PARTY — Little Joe Campbell celebrated her birthday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson.

Joel Feted On July 3, Her Third Birthday

Little Miss Joel Charlayne Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell, celebrated her third birthday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson of 1210 Wilson st., on July 3.

Joel was dressed for the party in a pink and white gingham playsuit, which matched a beautiful array of pink and white balloons.

Guests appeared to enjoy the noisemakers and especially the "Twist" contest won by little Miss Gwendolyn Callian.

Miss Simone McAnulty was in charge of games.

Joel's mother was very chic in a sports attire imported from Germany.

While the children were enjoying party games, parents were being entertained at a dinner prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Joel's guests for the evening were her sister, Michelle "Mick" Campbell, Denise Johnson, a cousin who returned here after living four years in Germany, Lawrence "Larry" Blackmer, Gwendolyn Callian, Jewell Adams, Maria and Michelle Jones, Terry Dandridge, Herbert, Carlton and Sandra Kneeland and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson, home from Germany.

Women's Day At St. Luke Sunday

Annual Women's Day will be observed at St. Luke Baptist church, 1280 N. Stonewall st., on Sunday, July 15, and guest speaker at the afternoon meeting will be Mrs. Tomella Bratcher.

The pastor, Rev. T. R. Buckner, will base his morning sermon on a story from the book of Ruth, and the public is invited to be present.

Mrs. Rendie Johnson is general chairman of the observance, and Mrs. L. M. Bland publicity chairman.

Friends Day At Friendship Church

Friendship Baptist Church, 1355 Vollentine ave., has planned to celebrate annual "Friends' Day, Sunday, July 15, announced the pastor of the church, Rev. W. A. Suggs.

Memphis Minister Attends Meet Of World Christian Council

Rev. C. D. Coleman, general secretary of the Board of Christian Education in the Methodist Episcopal church, boarded a jet at Municipal airport Saturday, July 7, bound for Belfast, Ireland, to attend the World Institute on Christian Education and the Assembly of the World Council of Christian Education and Sunday School association.

The Institute is scheduled to be held Monday, July 9, thru 20. Expected are 300 representatives from 70 countries. Forty-five delegates are expected from USA.

Theme of the institute is "The Educational Mission of the Church in Today's World." Plans for an integrated program of Christian Education are expected to be suggested for local churches.

This is Rev. Coleman's second world meeting. His first was as a delegate to the World Convention of Christian Educators in Tokyo, Japan in 1958.

During his current trip he and 13 other delegates will represent 40 denominations affiliated with the National Council of Churches, which has a 40 million membership.

Rev. Coleman's European itinerary includes: taking courses in London, the use of television and radio, directed at communicating Christian messages; preaching and speaking in Northern Ireland.

Rev. Coleman who was recently re-elected to his present position will move his office to Memphis in September from Chicago where he worked five years. He has established residence in Memphis at 4921 Horn Lake rd.

Affiliated with many organizations, he is a member of the Board of Trustees of The Interdenominational Theological Center, Atlanta, Ga.; Mississippi Industrial college, Holly Springs, Miss.; Paine college, Augusta, Ga.; Lane college, Jackson, Tenn.; general commission on Chaplains and Armed Forces Personnel, Washington, D. By JAMES G. GREGORY 4-H'ERS OFF TO STATE SHORT COURSE

More than 100 West Tennessee 4-H Club members left for the State 4-H Short Course Monday morning to spend the week at A&T State university, in Nashville.

Accompanying them were leaders and County Extension Agents from seven counties in District 1. They will return Friday.

The objectives of the Short Course as stated by Miss Bessie Walton and Mr. W. H. Williamson are: to give senior club members an opportunity to learn about their State Institute; to acquaint senior members with the various careers that they may choose from as a result of the Career Day Program; to recognize the accomplishments of the senior 4-H Club Member in their projects and leadership work and to further develop leadership through group and individual participation of club members and leaders.

Recreational and educational activities for the week embrace: swimming, folk dances, barnyard frolic, career day, 4-H Project demonstration day, and group discussions on citizenship in the making, and boy and girl relationship.

Four H'ers representing West Tennessee in the state project demonstration day contests are: (by counties) Fayette John T. Dorse, Eugene Anderson, Sallie M. Hall, Katherine William, Timothy McNamee, Otis Hare, Roscoe Gudger, Ed-die J. Boone, Edward Gray, Vinnie Strickland, Thomas Blackwell, Sarah Williams, Benjamin Bell, Ann F. O. Ross Pritchard Campaigning 19 Hours A Day

Ross Pritchard, former cham-pionship sprinter in the South- western conference and now a hard-running candidate for U.S. Congress, has hit a 19-hour-per-day campaign pace calculated to outdistance his opposition.

The typical campaign day be-gins at 4:45 a. m. and lasts un-til midnight — 19½ hours dur-ing which Pritchard meets with factory workers, Mem-ph is housewives, his campaign com-mittees, and voters in general. A typical day recently found him, with his son Michael, at the gates of the American Bridge Company at 5:30 a. m., where he shook hands until 7 a. m. Following a quick breakfast and two hours in campaign headquarters answer-ing mail, Pritchard attended his first morning coffee in East Memphis.

Lunch was scheduled with a finance committee meeting, followed by two afternoon teas at which Pritchard met 40 to 50 Memphis women and an-swered their questions. At 6:30 p. m. Pritchard and his family attended an outdoor barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gregg.

Some 200 people were served a barbecue and beans supper and heard Pritchard outline his campaign and answer ques-tions for the uncommitted voters who attended.

Following the barbecue, Pritchard attended a final cof-fee for the day in midtown Memphis, speaking to about 30 guests. At 10:30 p. m. he ap-peared on a five-minute tele-vision program on Channel 5 and wound up the day shaking

REAL ESTATE DIGEST

By Jesse L. Williams

By JESSE L. WILLIAMS
"Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, for ye are like unto whited sepulch-res, which indeed appear beau-tiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and all uncleanness." St. Matthew 23 chapter, 27 verse.

The Law of Attraction is very plainly expressed in Bible. It reads: "To him that hath shall be given, and from him that hath not shall be tak-en away, even that which he hath." As applied to attracting the prospect, this means that if have you the thoughts and ideas to attract the prospect, and give them out (they must be demonstrated) then you attract other things to you, and therefore more things shall be given unto you. On the other hand, if you do not make use of the thoughts and ideas you now have, then even that which you already have shall be taken away. It merely expresses the inexorable and immutable law that you have to give in order to get.

In selling, you have the one thing you always may give, and that is your ability, intelli-gently reviewed and appraised and conveyed to others through a system or plan of action.

You can create this plan in a haphazard, hit-or-miss, trial error way, or you can create it in a scientifically planned way. To attract a prospect and to create a sale, the latter is needed. The perfection of sell-ing starts with you. "Salvation is left to the person."

How high do you register in the scale of perfection? What are you doing to improve your efficiency? What Real Estate conventions or conferences did you attend last year? Or do you think you only have to wait on time, without trying to improve on your own, until growth comes?

Have you acquired the knowledge and skill to do the greatest amount of work with the least possible amount of effort in the shortest period of time? Can you give maxi-mum results with minimum ef-

The Tri-State Defender Recommends And Supports Clement For Governor

On August 2, voters will go to the polls to elect a governor of Tennessee for a four-year term. The decision of the vot-ers will determine whether the state will maintain a pace of progress or whether it will become stalemated and let the spirit of the new frontier pass by unheeded.

This newspaper has judi-ciously studied the records of the three gubernatorial candi-dates. It has heard their plat-forms. It has scrutinized their planks. And it has weighed their merits.

forts? or do you think the biological process known as "osmosis" will solve all your defects in selling?

Let us always remember that if Real Estate could talk and reveal its qualities, ser-vices, merits, usefulness, and its benefits and advantages to the prospect, you as a Real Estate broker or salesman, would no longer be needed.

However, since the product or the service cannot do this, it is your job to do it effec-tively now. This requires posi-tive thinking, creative plan-ning, and dynamic action now, and you are the person for this vital job.

The National Association of Real Estate Brokers, Inc., will have its convention in Dallas, Texas, August 10-15.

BEST QUALIFIED

The Tri State Defender be-lieves that the best qualifi-candidate to make "a grea-ter Tennessee, a greater Ten-nessee," is Frank G. Clement. Therefore, the Tri State De-fender endorses his candidacy and recommends him as the best qualified candidate in the race.

Clement has demonstrated beyond doubt that he has the knowledge, vision and experi-ence to advance Tennessee to new heights.

The people of Tennessee — we believe — are interested in fair and efficiently adminis-tered government. The people of Tennessee want a standard bearer who can face the chal-lenge of these days of great psychological, technological and scientific advancement.

Frank Clement has demon-strated beyond doubt — during two previous terms as gov-ernor — that he is qualified to withstand the rigor of of-fice.

The Tri State Defender is not unmindful of the fact that former Gov. Clement is not perfect. As a matter of fact, this newspaper has — at times — criticized him for some of his policies, actions and deci-sions — because it felt he did not act in the best interest of the public. This newspaper's endorsement and support of a public official does not obli-gate it to remain silent when the public official fails to serve the best interest of the public.

This is the moral obligation of this free and independent newspaper.

Frank Clement's record dur-ing his six years as governor of Tennessee (1952 - 1958) speaks for itself. He did more than any other previous gov-ernor in the area of (1) educa-tion; (2) public health; (3) new industry; (4) highways; (5) fi-nancial status of the state (6) farmers.

Shouts from his political op-ponents cannot alter his rec-ords, which he established as a young man with vision and courage.

He is the man who started Tennessee on the progressive course on which it is now moving.

Say Women Alcoholics, In Many Cases Are Forbidden By Mates To Seek Help

NEW YORK — One reason hotel here. social stigma attached to female alcoholism, Dr. Block believes that sometimes even doctors hesitate to prescribe treatment for female patients whose drinking has become a habit.

Prayer Ban Gets Praise, Disapproval

Reaction of prominent churchmen to the U. S. Supreme court decision banning the daily recitation of official state prayers in public schools ranged from outrage to approval.

Others regarded as inevitable the 6-1 ruling, which found the recitations a violation of the Constitution's first amendment guaranteeing religious freedom. Some favored it.

Dr. Harold R. Albert, president of the Pittsburgh, Pa., area Council of Churches, said the federal government "that allows us religious freedom intends us to exercise the freedom without infringing on the rights of others."

A. M. Sonnabend, Boston, president of the American Jewish Committee, said his group welcomed the court's ruling.

George E. Bundquist, executive director of the New York Civil Liberties Union, called the decision a "major step forward for the strengthening of religious freedom."

Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of First Baptist church, the world's largest, in Dallas, Tex., said, "I'm overwhelmed and astonished by the decision."

"I always thought these basic things such as prayer in the name of God would be acceptable to the Supreme Court and practically everybody in the U.S."

"In New York, where reading of the so-called 'Regents Prayer' led to the decision, Francis, Cardinal Spellman said he was 'shocked and frightened.'"

"The decision strikes at the very heart of the Godly tradition in which America's children have for so long been raised," he declared.

But another Catholic clergyman, Father Joseph A. Schumacher, chancellor of the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese, said the decision "should not concern us as much as those of other faiths since we try to have Catholic children attend Catholic schools."

Evangelist Billy Graham said he was "shocked and disappointed" by the ruling.

The Rt. Rev. James A. Pike, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of California, said he was surprised the court extended "to an obviously non-sectarian prayer the prohibition against the establishment of religion" clearly intended by our forefathers to bar official status to any particular denomination or sect."

Methodist Bishop W. Kenneth Pope of Little Rock, Ark., said the decision "is in accord with our Constitution which prescribes strict separation of church and state."

The new library will have all the departments of a modern library including lending, reference and children's sections and will also contain a vast hall for lectures, debates and discussions.

The British government has already contributed $75,600 towards the capital cost of the Central Library. The Western Nigerian Government is considering merging a proposed Secretariat library, which would cost $112,000, with the Central Library.

Western Nigeria spends nearly half of its revenue on education, waging a relentless war on illiteracy which has received wide public response.

The Government has sought to sustain this response to its educational programs by providing well-equipped and efficient public libraries. Latest statistics show that there has been a substantial rise in readership at the present Regional Library in Ibadan and accommodations for new books are urgently required.

In addition to the regional library at Ibadan, the government has established a series of mobile libraries which supply books to schools and village communities. Local and district councils operate over 50 local libraries including special libraries for children.

Reporting on a survey of 1-300 physicians in an upstate New York county, he says, "We found that these physicians had observed four times as many alcoholics as had come for help with alcoholism."

Commenting on a report in an article "Women Who Drink Too Much" which suggests that the widely published "five men alcoholics to one woman" ratio is far too low, Dr. Block says, "I am convinced that addiction to alcohol is fully as common among women as among men."

Because there is so much problem with drinking."

Among the physicians surveyed, Dr. Block continues, "were obstetricians and gynecologists, men who see only women and pediatricians who only see the mothers, rarely the fathers."

These doctors all observed these alcoholics, but for fear of antagonizing the individuals, the physicians did not advise them to seek help for their problem. They ignored it for fear of hurting the people by telling them that they have a problem with drinking."

backing Gubernatorial candidate Frank Clement — but they don't want to have any parts of Ross Pritchard. On the other hand — some of Pritchard's most avid fighters are staunch supporters of Clement. So the line-up — presently — looks like a jigsaw puzzle. Then there is the Evers-Murphy situation. O. Z. Evers, must have considered it a political slap at him when Atty. Ira H. Murphy declared his candidacy for circuit court clerk. This is the first time that two Negroes have opposed each other in a political race in Memphis — that is under such conditions.

CONSOLIDATION

The most interesting race — is the congressional race. Veteran Cliff Davis — who has not found it necessary in many years to wage a vigorous campaign, is being challenged by two young men — both still holding out hope that the other will get out of the race.

The most intriguing battle is being waged by the old pro himself — George W. Lee, who says that "the issue in this campaign is not the election of a governor — but electing how Memphis and Shelby County will be governed." He has reference to "Consolidation." He is a member of the Charter Committee planning from "metro."

The New Guard Republicans are in a pitch battle to unseat the Old Guards. They have tried it before.

Politics brings out the strangeness in a community.

Can you picture any brave soul being so brave as to attempt to get a ticket out — to any avail — during this campaign?

LOG-ROLLING

It is obvious that little — if any — political bargaining is going on. For instance, there are many voters who are

FORE!!

"Fore" is the traditional term golfers use to warn other players that a ball is about to be struck off.

It's appropriate for what is about to be said here.

Robert Wright and Associates, Memphis's oldest, largest and best-known group of Negro golfing enthusiasts, have served notice that they are activating a plan to make more Negro golfers aware of the sport.

Mr. Wright, leader of the group, has launched a weekly golf clinic for youngsters and the beginning golfers at Fuller reasons many local Negroes Golf Course. He conducts the clinic himself, with the help of several other veteran men and women golfers. He began its well-appointed clubhouse with three teen-age girls. The other features. Many of clinic was originally slated to be run for two days. But the enthusiasm of the idea, has caused Mr. Wright to decide to conduct a once a week clinic at Fuller for the remainder of the summer.

There are no fees attached. But the answer might not be balls and clubs are provided hard to find. In the first place, free instruction is free. The many Negroes think they have clinic session starts at 1 p.m. moved up on the social hour and last until 3 p.m. Anyone when they frequent recreation from 8 to 80 may attend men, al facilities used by whites. In women, boys and girls. All the case of the Fuller Golf they have to do is register with course, they have forgotten Mr. Wright at the Fuller Club that white golfers play out there also.

Curiosity led to asking Mr. Wright the following question: "It's pretty well-known that you are almost fanatical in most 'sporting' challenging your love for golf... but why're you so anxious to get that it is a top course, the town worked up over it?"

The question didn't stymie best golfers... meaning that "Rob" (as Mr. Wright is popularly known) it served as the signal for launching of one of the most unusual lectures recently let loose in these parts. The veteran Memphis golfer, know that, or haven't thought ing pioneer among local Negroes first pointed out that the golf is internationally accepted as a healthful, relaxing, pleasant, respectable, and stag-golf course... or to courses

He also noted that golf is not the expensive, rich man's sport some people think it is. It is within financial reach of anybody who can afford to go as to the movies regularly or pay and if, they get to Heaven... regularly to see baseball, foot-and maybe, even Heil!

"Rob" was particularly eloquent in pointing out the opportunities to be found for Negroes in the game of golf. Comparing what Negro athletes have done professionally in baseball, football, boxing, basketball, and now, even in tennis, Mr. Wright said larger opportunities are there for professional Negro golfers all over America. He named a pioneer group of Negro men and women golfers who are finding acceptance in big national and regional tournaments, in competition with top white golfers, and playing for big-time stakes.

These Negro professionals, altho now only a handful, are pointing the way and blazing trails for lucrative incomes and high class employment for future Negro golfers. It's Mr. Wright's contention that a beginning should be made now, among the younger Negroes, to point out these opportunities, and get them ready for them. That's the motivation behind his clinic.

He stated that girls and women have a splendid opportunity to make a living and make a mark in golf... noting that white girls by the score find steady, well-paying, satisfying employment in various phases of the sport.

The coming United Golf Association tournament, slated for Aug. 24-28, in Memphis, was mentioned by Mr. Wright, and evaluated not only as one of the largest sporting events sponsored by Negroes in the world, but also as a source of inspiration and motivation for Negro youth here and elsewhere.

He also cited the Robert Wright Associates tournament, which will follow on the heels of the USA tourney, as being educational, as well as recreational, and designed to encourage and promote Negro golf.

tus-giving form of recreation, where mostly white golfers Love of the game crosses class play... in order to get away lines and racial lines. The game from other Negroes. It's sur-ranks with the top five partici-pation and spectator sports.

He also noted that golf is not the expensive, rich man's sport some people think it is. It is within financial reach of anybody who can afford to go as to the movies regularly or pay and if, they get to Heaven... regularly to see baseball, foot-and maybe, even Heil!

"Rob" was particularly eloquent in pointing out the opportunities to be found for Negroes in the game of golf. Comparing what Negro athletes have done professionally in baseball, football, boxing, basketball, and now, even in tennis, Mr. Wright said larger opportunities are there for professional Negro golfers all over America. He named a pioneer group of Negro men and women golfers who are finding acceptance in big national and regional tournaments, in competition with top white golfers, and playing for big-time stakes.

Two Years After Independence The Congo Is Showing Vast Improvement

(Editor's Note — It has been two years since the former Belgian Congo gained its independence. In that time, the Central African country has undergone a series of internal strife which at times resulted in wholesale bloodletting. UPI correspondent William Anderson reports that on this anniversary of independence the Congo still has vast problems to overcome but the resource-rich nation no longer is "a hopeless mess.")

By WILLIAM ANDERSON

LEOPOLDVILLE — (UPI) — On the second anniversary of its independence — which it gained at midnight, June 30, 1960 — The Congo may also be on the eve of peace.

The country has come a long way in its second year despite much severe fighting, a number of horrible massacres and continuing political uncertainty and confusion.

But with the second anniversary at hand, the United Nations mission chief in the Congo, Robert A. K. Gardiner of Ghana, is "cautiously optimistic" that the country is ready to put aside its hates and rivalries and become a nation. Gardiner is not alone in his hope. The consensus of western diplomatic missions is that while 1961 was a "hopeless mess," the last 12 months have started The Congo back from political and economic chaos.

LONG, HARD ROAD

The long, hard road to placing The Congo, with its mighty potential, in its true place in Africa began last July when, after months of negotiation, the United Nations arranged for parliament to meet under U. N. protection at Lovanium university in Leopoldville.

From this meeting emerged a central government headed by Cyrille Adoula, a 41-year-old trade union leader and former bank clerk.

As parliament met for the first time in more than a year The Congo had hit its lowest point.

Antoine Gizenga, a former schoolmaster and vice-premier in the government of Patrice Lumumba, who was murdered in Katanga in February, 1961, had created a secessionist state around the Lumumba stronghold of Stanleyville.

Nine Afro-Asian countries had accredited diplomatic missions in the town. In Katanga, president Moise Tshombe was sitting behind a mercenary-built military wall bolstered by fat revenues from the copper mines of his province.

FLOTTED OPPONENT

Albert Kalonji, another anti-central government secessionist, had himself crowned king, then emperor of South Kasai's diamond mines and ordered anyone who opposed him flogged in public.

The Congo's "Garden Province" of Kivu which had previously provided an agricultural surplus was the hunting ground of rebellious troops whose depredations reduced production with the thoroughness of a swarm of locusts.

The capital of Leopoldville, once a bustling African metropolis, was haunted by 100,000 unemployed threatening to explode into a mob of food-seeking looters.

Adoula was named premier in August, 1961, mainly because he commanded no large political group. He had started out as an ardent Lumumbist but along with many others was soon appalled at the one of a series of such appointments for NCC graduates this year to "non-traditional" posts. Although the majority of NCC products continue to go into teaching fields, increasing numbers of them are finding positions in government and industry.

They will complement the U. N.'s 400 technical assistants who, although hard-working and conscientious, can solve only a fraction of The Congo's technical problems.

The Congo still has its troubles — lots of them. But on its second anniversary it does seem to be moving in the right direction.

Burroughs Corp. Hires First Negro Accountant

DURHAM, N. C. — The Burroughs Corporation of America has employed a 1962 NCC graduate, Coy Smith of Durham, as its first Negro accountant.

Smith, an honor graduate in commerce, who has a beginning salary of $7,800 will work in the Detroit office.

The employment of Smith is one of a series of such appointments for NCC graduates this year to "non-traditional" posts. Although the majority of NCC products continue to go into teaching fields, increasing numbers of them are finding positions in government and industry.

YES WE ALL TALK

By MARCUS H. BOULWARE

Parents of children who are hard of hearing, and children who wear hearing aids should become familiar with the book — "Tim and His Hearing Aid."

This book is published by Dodd, Mead and Company of New York City, copyrighted 1951.

This book tells the story of Tim, his hearing, his advice by the ear specialist, his being fitted with a hearing aid, his problems encountered in learning to wear the hearing aid, and his learning to get the most benefits therefrom.

It tells these hearing handi- capped children that they are not alone with a hearing prob- lem. The book is very well il- lustrated with pictures of Tim and his family, etc.

Hotel Building Boom Is An International Trend

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK — (UPI) — A global hotel building boom is under way to meet the needs of a swelling number of travelers.

Across the U. S., new hotels, motels and motor hotels are springing up along highways, in suburbs and downtown areas. An adaptation of the motel has come to New York City, with several motor hotels going up on the West Side of Manhattan.

A number of major hotels are being built in other cities, among them, Houston, Tex., where the Sheraton — Lincoln recently opened. An expensive and swanky new hostelry, the Georgetown Inn, has opened in Washington, D.C. The Mississippi Gulf Coast, boasts a new $6 million resort. Abroad, hotels are being built in many of the major European capitals.

The Knott hotels corpora- tion is putting up the 24-story Westbury in Brussels. Scheduled to open next March. It will be the tallest hotel in Europe, with a restaurant at the top.

Venezuela has built a lux- ury hotel on the seacoast near Caracas, which will be run by the Sheraton chain as the Sheraton Macuto. Intercontinental hotels, a subsidiary of Pan American World Airways, will manage the Hotel Phoenicia, which is scheduled to open in December in Beirut, Lebanon.

A new ski resort has been opened in Chile at La Parva, to provide summer recreation for skiers who like to keep in practice between winter vacations.

Says What He Learned At FHA Credit Program Aided Success

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A former tenant farmer who has determinedly adopted the im- proved farming methods sug- gested by the U. S. Depart- ment of Agriculture. They 80 hogs a year, more than a dozen calves, around 12 bales of cotton, and 5,000 pounds of tobacco. A new tractor has re- placed three mules.

The farmer is Henry H. Nesmith of Kingstree, S. C. Within three years, the cot- ton yield was up from 250 bushels to 750 bushels. And their tobacco crop, which received similar attention, brought a yield of 2,000 pounds per acre, com- pared with only 1,400 pounds the first year. Average per acre cotton yield in the county house and a barn.

After his father's death in 1948, Nesmith, applied to the Farmers Home for a loan to buy 125 acres and build a house and a barn.

"When we made the family the loan to buy the farm," re- calls County Farmers Home Supervisor Edward D. Player, "its acres were about as poor as any in the state."

Receives $25,000 Grant For Work With Youth

NEW YORK — A $25,000 grant from The Charles E. and older-resident families to- gether. In effect, an establish- ment has been received by the National Urban League toward support of the organization's youth and family service pro- grams, Henry Steeger, NUL president, announced today.

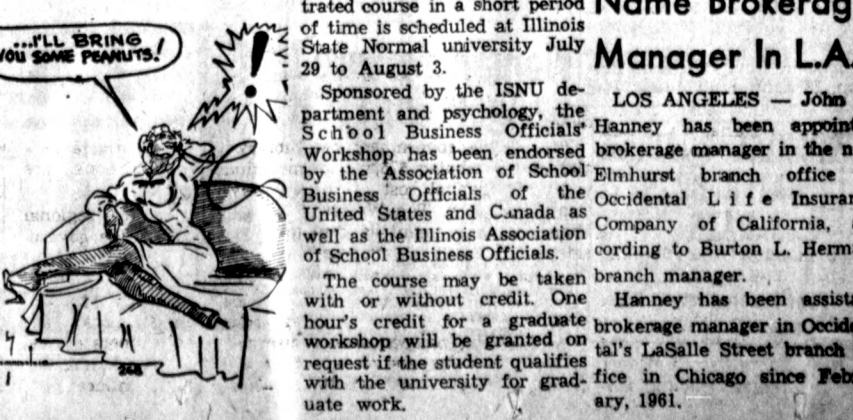

The League's youth incen- tive program is to supplement school counseling services, Steeger said. It helps Negro youth to secure equitable ac- cess to educational and train- ing opportunities.

The UL conducts career con- ferences, stay-in-school and back-to-school drives and a wide variety of other activi- ties designed to encourage and stimulate Negro youth toward maximum achievement of their potential through edu- cation and training, he added.

SOCIETY

Merry Go-Round

BY MARJORIE I. ULEN

FOURTH OF JULY was heralded by gatherings of kith and kin . . . on patios, in back yards, in verdant parks . . . mostly marked by the wafting of hazy and delicious smelling smoke for the pastime that has become America's favorite, the barbecue cook-outs.

Gone are the days of flag-waving parades and speeches of yore . . . but the spirit of the Fourth lives on in our contemporary mores, as aforementioned.

RECEPTION
THE WOMEN OF Garden's Presbyterian Church gave a beautiful welcome program and reception for their new minister and his family, Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Haygood, Sunday, July 1, at 5 p.m.

With a prelude by O'Ferral Nelson, and Charles Campbell leading the prayer, Mrs. Marguerite McChrister, president of the Women's group, gave the occasion. Welcomes were extended by James Simpson, Jr., from the church and by elder Blair T. Hunt, pastor of Mississippi Blvd. Christian church, from the community. Rev. Haygood made the response. Miss Gracie Conley of Bethel A.M.E. church sang, as did Eugene Nesbitt, the history of Parkway Gardens was given by Mrs. Grace K. Tardy, and the remarks of Sherman W. Robinson, Clerk of Session, closed the brief and impressive program.

Immediately following, a beautiful reception was held in the downstairs fellowship room, where guests met Mrs. Haygood and the family's handsome children.

Among the guests attending the program and reception were Mrs. Lillian Anderson, Mrs. Betty Bland, Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Ratcliffe, Mrs. Elsie R. Mulanda, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Northcross, Mrs. Mable Nems, Miss Juanita Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. West A. Webb, Jr., Mrs. Pearl Legett, Mrs. Almitie Allen, Thurman Northcross, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. O'Ferral Nelson, Rev. S. B. Kyle, Mrs. Hazel Bass, Dr. A. B. L. Burford, Eugene Nesbitt, Mrs. Ophelia Porter, Miss Alice Morgan, Dr. Hollis F. Price, Mrs. L. Marzette, Mrs. Thylmae Jones, Miss Ann Spraggins, Mrs. Evelyn Reed, Bertram Lee McClarin, Errol W. Johnson, Mrs. Edna Young, Vernon McDonald.

Mrs. Juanita H. Rayner, Miss Evelyn McGhee, Mrs. Marjorie Ulen, Mrs. Rose Nell Iles, Charles McChrister, Ted Marzette, William Moore, Karen Moore, Brenda Sanders, Rev. Gene Canestrari, Michael Jones, Brenda Batts, Yvonne Jackson, Mrs. Bertha Corward, Mrs. Annie Mae Johnson, Rev. William Burton, Mrs. Mildred Moore, Mrs.

Velma McChrister, Rev. and Mrs. R. L. McRae and Rev. Tom Davidson. We join in welcoming the Haygoods to our community.

Mrs. Lillian Anderson of 1533 Doris, entertained friends with a Fourth of July bride party at 5 that afternoon. First to arrive was Mrs. Callie Terrell and her daughter Brenda, long time friends of the Anderson family. Others were Mrs. Martha Mitchell, Mrs. Minnie L. Robinson, Mrs. Bennie S. Haygood and her three children, Rosetta, Lawrence Jr. (Tony) and Chiquita. Mrs. Haygood is the wife of Parkway Gardens Presbyterian Church's new minister, who recently moved here from Norfolk, Va.

While the adults played bridge, Mrs. Anderson's pretty girls, Lillian (Plum) and Mitchell (Cherry) entertained their guests with a game of War, and other children's delights.

Mrs. Anderson entertained in orange Jamaica shorts and a rainbow striped blouse. Mrs. Haygood wore blue shorts and a blue mingled blouse. Mrs. Robinson's shorts were of denim and a floral blouse of patriotic red, white and blue. Mrs. Terrell chose a floral spaghetti strapped patio dress and Mrs. Mitchell was chic in a broadcloth sport skirt and blouse.

Prizes were won by Mesdames Haygood and Mitchell . . . and everyone enjoyed the delicious and attractive menu.

PARTY HONORS OHIOANS
MR. AND MRS. THEODORE JACKSON were party hosts at their home on South Parkway last Friday night, when they complimented their daughter Beverly J. Hawkins and her husband Wallace, of Dayton, Ohio. It was their first trip home since leaving Memphis . . . and the couple's scores of friends were delighted in having them back in their midst.

Having fun chatting, enjoying the lavish hospitality of the lovely home and the tasty canapes and hors d'oeuvre menu were Margaret and Roscoe McWilliams, Frank and Ruby Jean Nelson, O'Ferral and Ann Lewis, Ida Mae Lockard, Dr. T. H. and Nell Northcross, Herbert and LeMaris Robinson, Rose and Leopold Iles, Frank Williams, Dr. I. A. and Vernita Watson, Alice and Frank Kilpatrick, Helen and Bennie Batts, Dr. and Mrs. Fortson of Dayton, Ohio, Vivian and Thomas Willis.

Beverly and Wallace were also complimented at a fourth picnic by their close friends, the Sam Browns, and Hazelle O. Lewis; Dr. and Mrs. J. Byas were hosts at brunch Friday . . . and Mrs. I. A. Watson entertained at dinner Sat. Eve., followed by a party by the Herbert Robinsons.

We're bursting with pride, as well as the scores of friends of Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Jr. and Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Speight, Sr., whose son and grandson, William (Billy) Speight III, has scored the phenomenal accomplishment of chalking up a perfect score of 800 points in higher mathematics on the College Entrance Board Examination. Dr. and Mrs. Speight were informed by the headmaster of the Wooster School, a boys prep school at Danbury, Conn., of the feat last week in a letter which commended them and expressed the school's pride in the achievement. Hamilton high school, too, can take pride in this brilliant youngster, since he attended Hamilton in grades 1 through 8.

Occurring at a propitious time, with the local air clouded with the recent report of underachievement of so many of our local students, this news is a vivid reminder of the fact that security, motivation, enrichment and accomplishment in education is indeed influenced by economic and cultural background.

Memphis can also be proud of the fact that in the two instances to our knowledge,

Harrine Janet Collier Becomes Bride Of Charles Ingram

On Saturday, June 16, Miss Harrine Janet Collier of Memphis, became the bride of Charles Ingram of New York City at the Trinity Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Collier; Ingram is the son of Mrs. Frances Biddle of Paris, Kentucky.

Wedding music was provided by Miss Alva Crivens and Mrs. Helen W. West; soloist was Mrs. Eulless Hunt. Reverend P. Gonyea Hentzel, pastor of the church officiated.

The bride who wore an exquisite gown of Alecon lace which featured a sweetheart neckline, was escorted to the flower banked altar by her father, Houston Collier. Her chapel train enhanced the delicacy of the wedding dress which was worn by her mother, Mrs. Collier. Her headpiece was a chapel veil of illusion and seed pearls.

The something "borrowed" was a dainty handkerchief used by her grandmother more than 60 years ago.

MATRON OF HONOR

Mrs. Houstine Collier Green, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Penn, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Davis, sister of the bridegroom, Paris Ken. The matron of honor wore pale yellow princess style, calf-length silk cotton dress and a tiny veiled white hat, the bridesmaids wore silk cotton yellow dresses and tiny yellow straw hats with matching veiling. Their bouquets were of red American beauty roses.

Willie Green was best man. Groomsmen were Harold Osborne, Harper Brewer,

The mother of the bride wore a rose lace after-five dress with matching accessories, and a tiny hat of baby roses. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. Biddle, the groom's mother, wore a white on blue flowered silk dress, and white silk organza hat. Her corsage was a white orchid.

THE RECEPTION

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1430 Elliston Road. Pre-nuptial affairs were a kitchen shower given by Mrs. James Bostic, 2233 Sparks Road, bridal luncheon given by Mrs. William Owen and her daughter, Angela and the rehearsal dinner by the bride's parents.

Mrs. Ingram is a graduate of Knoxville College and a graduate student in the English department at Atlanta University; and a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

The groom is a graduate of Knoxville College and is employed in New York City where the couple will make their home. He is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

Words of the Wise

When nature leaves a hole in a person's mind, she generally plasters it over with self-conceit.

—(Henry Wadsworth Longfellow)

By MRS. C. WATSON

Dear Carlotta:
I am a young woman, and am trying to live a clean life. One reason is that it has always been drummed into me — the value of a clean life.

But I could have much more fun, if I took more interest in the activities of my friends.

They tell me that burning my candle at both ends may burn out quicker, but it will make a better light. And believe me their light is shining at this time. Now I need some fortitude, someone who can tell me again, I am right, and also some of them may read it and come to my side. It is hard to fight alone.

Lonesome.

Dear Lonesome,
There are many young women that are taking care of their bodies and their souls, although their names aren't sung from the house-tops. So feel proud, rather than remorseful for the stand you are taking. So respect that body and mind.

Too many people let their minds get into places and conditions in which you would only expect to find pigs wall-lowing. You will be able to stand up to years and years of the hardest work and be in fine fettle at the end if you take care of your self.

But a few years of loose-living will rattle it to bits and leave it a burned out old wreck. Tell your "loose" friends that they cannot take liberties with old Mother Nature, and the sins they commit light heartedly against her "two by two" . . . they will be called upon some day to pay for dearly "one by one."

It is interesting to note that there is a "comeback" with Nature. And, take it from me, you'll never have a really sound, alert mind unless you have a sound chassis and vice versa. Self respect, is the most important thing one can acquire.

Lakeviewing With Gerri

NEW SECTION

In the Gardens, plans for new Section "G" are rapidly taking shape. Along with the planning goes several new model homes, which will be in the $14,000 to $35,000 price range. One of these luxurious models features a living room, dining room, two baths — one of which will have a dressing area, with formica top tables, two children's bedrooms, the Master bedroom with its private bath, a children's playroom, a family room with fireplace, an eat-in kitchen, storage closet and utility room, to mention a few of the features, this sparkling new model with that inimitable Lakeview flair, will be available soon.

Lakeview Gardens is achieving a continuing freshness, a versatility in distinctive homes that soars beyond the limits of a set style or feeling. These homes sweep in mood from casual ease to mellow warmth to sophisticated elegance and provide realistic eyes for your budget!

The office of Lakeview Management company is open seven days a week for further information.

LAKEVIEWITES

From all indications, conviviality reigned throughout the Gardens on the Fourth of July. With few exceptions, Lakeviewites who are usually gregarious gababouts, remained Lakeviewbound. Barbecues and picnics flourished . . . Stein and Sunbeam (Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mitchell) entertained the band and other employees of Club Handy. This gay group of guys and dolls made whoopee from near noon 'til almost work time at the club.

On Peace st., the Hollises, the Bakers, the Johnsons, and the Hills had whing-dings at each of the respective residences. The hosts did themselves proud on the luscious barbecue feasts.

An ever so delightful barbecue was enjoyed at Martha and Harold Galloway's. The gay bon vivants of this group were Norm and Leon Griffin, Mary Ethel and Jimmy Jones and Martha and Arthur Earl Horne. Of course the offspring of each were present.

Percy Gill and siblings, along with the James Woods' family enjoyed a picnic at the Bailey farm which included boating and fishing. Upon returning, a twist contest between the youngsters and oldsters ensued. Of course you know agility is a MUST for this dance, so it's needless to say who won!

Another gala on the glorious Fourth was the trek to the Carver Point Resort for Lakeview Management and Peace Realty companies' staffers. Those who sauntered around the picnic grounds "neath the tall trees, fished and/or boated on the lake were Sam and Maggie Peace, Bob and Stine McFerrin, Minerva Hancock and of course, the new director of Lakeview Management - Roy Kavanagh. Feasting, fishing and cordiality prevailed throughout the day. J. C. McCauley with Jackie and Larry were among the frolickers at the now-famous resort site, just beyond the state line.

Simply scrumptious barbecue, further enhanced by tasty baked beans and marvelous slaw, brought raves as well as requests for more from Nedra and Smitty, who feted Winnie, (Mrs. Irvin Wallace of Los Angeles). Among those present at this fun gathering were Barbara Atkins, Fat (Thomas) Mills, Carolyn Garner, Fred Williams and your scribe and spouse, Bill.

The Henry A. Neales entertained Mrs. Wallace with supper on their spacious patio last Saturday night, with the usual crowd present including Lee and W. L. Jamison.

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Wardell Wilson of 4875 Peace who recently lost her mother.

NACWC, Labor Department, Howard University

To Sponsor July 27-28 Work Conference For Girls

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The National Association of Colored Women's Clubs has been joined by the U. S. Department of Labor and Howard University in the sponsorship of what is believed to be the first national conference on work opportunities for girls and young women. The conference will be held at Howard University July 27 and 28.

More than 500 persons are expected to participate in the parley, which will have as its theme "The World of Work." To date, 19 organizations have pledged their support of the conference, and requests to participate have come from young women in 22 states and the District of Columbia, including some 30 American Indian youth who are being brought to Washington by the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The work conference is being held in conjunction with the biennial convention of the National Association of Colored Girls, an NACWC affiliate.

Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson will keynote the meeting with an address at the opening session Friday, July 27 at 9 a.m. Other speakers at this session include NACWC President Rosa L. Gragg of Detroit and Dr. Robert E. Martin, associate professor of government and chairman of the Citizenship Project at Howard.

Other first-day features include workshops on aptitudes and interests, employment opportunities, and preparing for a career.

Also scheduled for Friday will be a panel discussion featuring young women in unusual occupations at 10 a.m. and a general meeting at 8 p.m. in the Departmental Auditorium of the Labor Department. The latter program will include an address by Attorney General Robert Kennedy and musical selections by Miteh Miller and Leslie Uggams.

TOURS SCHEDULED
Saturday's schedule includes tours of the White House and Capitol, with meetings with key congressmen and senators in the morning and a workshop reporting session in the afternoon. The meeting ends with a Saturday evening banquet at Howard University.

According to Dr. Gragg, the forthcoming conference is not only the first to be held at the national level in which young women will be able to talk with experts in employment and career counseling, but it is also the first of its type which the federal government has helped sponsor.

The NACWC president said that plans are being made for subsequent conferences of this type on the local, state, and regional levels. NACWC has affiliated clubs in 41 states and the District of Columbia.

Dr. Gragg has requested that individuals and groups interested in participating in the conference write to: The World of Work, National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, 1601 "R" Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

STARS ON SHELF

For weeks, the World Champions New York Yankees were hysterically worried about Mickey Mantle — their great super star. Then to place salt in their wounds, last year's premier relief man, Luis Arroyo, was sidelined by arm trouble. Of course, with the Cuban lefty convalescing, it was appropriate for ace Whitey Ford to succumb to shoulder pains, being unable to finish that which he had started on the mound.

The latter was nothing new even in the compilation of 25 triumphs in 1961. Ford didn't finish many of those either; however, he could depend on his shadow (Arroyo) to come in to douse the flames.

With this galaxy of talent, not to mention the army touring Tony Kubek on the shelf, it was no wonder that the Yanks were pretty lucky to just stay in pennant contention. The New Yorkers did drop as many as five games off the pace.

SHERIFF IN CHARGE

These infirmity blues didn't have a complete blackout effect on the perennial American League Champs. While the rest of the league woke up and got in the race, the Yankees had to rely heavily on their progressively grown-weaker pitching staff.

Mantle's knee injury seemingly gave opposing pitching impetus to get Bill Skowron, Elston Howard and Roger Maris out with an incredible consistency. Evidence of the silence in the New York arsenal was the elevation of Bobby Richardson, lead-off man and seventh place hitter to the coveted third slot.

From whom then, did Manager Ralph Houk, get a consistent performance? When Arroyo saved games, it was headlines, but when southpaw Marshall Bridges stroled from the Yankees bullpen and stopped opposing rallies, there were few sentences that told of his work. It was apparent, however, that Houk had found a new stopper in the "Sheriff," the name former teammates at Cincinnati gave him because it corresponded with his first name.

Bridges, a native of Jackson, Miss., is well known to Memphians who followed the Memphis Red Sox a few years back. Bridges is a product of the Delta Baseball School. In a telephone conversation with Matty Brescia, an old friend, now a salesman for Consolidated Liquors, I was reminded of the school which he and then Red Sox manager, Homer "Goose" Curry, founded. The baseball school held sessions at Greenville and Jackson in Mississippi and locally at Martin Stadium, now a parking lot for a trucking line.

TURBULENT AS BUSHY

Bridges, a lean six-footer, who in his early playing days, had a yearn to "walk on the wild side," was first signed by the New York Giants, to a AAA contract with Minneapolis for a salary of $800 a month. After purchasing Bridges from Red Sox general manager, Dr. B.B. Martin, the Giants sent him to Class "B" Virginia farm team where he played as a first baseman. Bridges had also labored in the outfield at Memphis.

This writer can best describe the "Sheriff" off the field activity as that which is currently associated with Bo Belinsky, the brash Los Angeles Angels lefthander.

Unfortunately for Bridges, the Giants were less tolerant than the embryonic Angels have been with wee hours in the morning escapades of the colorful Belinsky. Bridges was released and back to the long bus rides with the Negro American League Red Sox, which was to be his fate.

It wasn't long before the fastballer had hooked up with the St. Louis Cardinals. Used mostly in relief with the Cards, Marshall did a credible job, despite trouble occasionally with the gopher ball. Watching Bridges in 1958, against San Francisco in old Seals Stadium pointed this out. He had mastered the Giants for a short relief period when Willie Kirkland, a lefthanded hitter, abruptly upset this fine pitching with a rocket-like shot into the bleachers.

After the game, in the Cards dressing room, Bridges was still his old happy-go-lucky self. In fact, George Crowe and Curt Flood looked on him as one of the club's jokesters.

St. Louis peddled the erratic fastballer off to Cincinnati in 1960. Why Bridges was sold wasn't published, but this scribe learned from reliable sources that he was involved in a St. Louis hotel incident that was magnified because it involved a racial entanglement. During the Reds' scramble for the National League pennant last year, Bridges was farmed out about mid-season; thus, he was denied the thrill of playing in a World Series.

A YANK NOW

They say many players perform differently in Yankee flannels. So Bridges could get the chance to compete in the fall classic with the greatest of them all. Bridges has more than paid the Yankees back for the faith they showed him.

Depending heavily on what he dubs as his flame thrower, Bridges has emerged as the bull pen pitcher most likely to get the call when Manager Houk needs a big out. His earned run average of less than two runs is tops on the staff.

The Sheriff has a 1-0 record, not counting the numerous saves for faltering starters. Now that the ex-Red Sox hurler is showing his true talent on the field, here's hoping that he will remember when off the field that Belinsky is Polish.

SIGHTS ON CHICAGO

Harvey Branch has every reason to have his sights set on Chicago as his ultimate goal. Branch is a pitcher on the Chicago Cubs' San Antonio farm team, where his 9-5 record is among the league's top five hurlers. Branch is a former Booker T. Washington stand-out, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Branch, reside at 1459 Hamilton.

Branch signed with the Cubs in 1958 while he was playing for Cliff Hallman's Magnolia Eagles, a local semi-pro nine.

South Africa To Go Modern On Driving

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa—(UPI) — South Africa may consider a change from the British system and have the country's drivers drive on the right side of the road instead of the left.

The country's road safety council has recommended that the government consider the change before its modernizes the nation's roads.

FACE GEORGIA JUSTICE—The NAACP is defending 13 of the 14 Negro youths indicted in connection with the Augusta slaying of a white youth who was shot during a ride through the Negro section armed with guns, rocks and other weapons, supposedly looking for "fun," but irritated by integration efforts of Negro youth. All told, nine Negroes face first degree murder charges and five are charged with rioting. Paul Reeves, upper left, faces a murder count. Defoe Holmes, upper right, John E. Davis, lower left, and Thomas Holmes, Jr., lower right, face charges of rioting. Funds to assist in their defense may be sent to the NAACP, 20 West 40th st., New York, 18, N. Y.

THE JOHNSON LEGACY — Mrs. James Weldon Johnson presents a photo of her late husband, who became the first Negro executive secretary of the NAACP in 1920. Mr. Johnson was noted for literary classics such as "God's Trombones," a book of sermons in the style of the early Negro preacher. Seen here with Mrs. Johnson are Bishop Stephen Gill Spottswood, chairman of the NAACP board of directors, center, and Arthur B. Spingarn, NAACP president, and close friend of the poet, who dedicated "God's Trombones" to him.

to a auto and follows the crowd to the Fuller golf course to a free clinic held for teenagers by Robert Wright from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. This is the first big step taken by a parent to see teenage girls golf. Nat D. does not intend to stop until he has brought at least 17 to the clinic. Along with the Williams girls was Betty Edwards. Robert Wright states if the kids interest stay high he will continue this free clinic every Wednesday for the rest of the summer. Youngsters will find in entering these integrated colleges it will be best to learn as much as one can about all sports and it will be a tremendous help toward joining the social activities that goes on in college. The most challenging course in the city is at your disposal.

West Holmes YPCC Club News

By Thomas Saulsberry

"QUEEN CROWNED"

There was joy and jubilation at the crowning of our queen last week. Miss Helen Meeks was selected the queen of our organization for 1962-63.

We would like to commend her for her efforts. In what seemed like hours, the announcement was made slowly by the president, Sammie Hardaway. After the announcement she was wildly applauded by the large crowd that attended the event. She was also presented a sweater with the lettering "West Holmes YPCC Queen of 62-63." Jimmie Saulsberry, Jr., and Clemon Saulsberry served as the reporter and photographer for the night.

Miss Betty Jean Malone came in a very close second, with Misses Betty House and Liza Trent following in that order. We are encouraging the runners-up to get ready for next year, because they are still eligible.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The proceeds from this event will be used to start a scholarship fund for some of our upcoming graduates. This idea was presented to the club by Clemon Saulsberry several weeks ago. In order to be eligible for scholarships one must be a member of this organization. The details of the contest to be used will be announced at a later meeting.

Who Won Stone Mountain Battle--Klan Or Police?

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. — (UPI) — There was some confusion Monday over who won the weekend battle of Stone Mountain - rock - throwing Ku Klux Klansmen or billy-swinging state troopers.

Some Klansmen finally got to the top of the Confederate memorial Saturday. But they held a "religious ceremony" instead of their original intention of cross burning.

Police said they allowed the ceremony as a compromise to avoid further violence and possible injury to women and children among the 300 Klansmen and sympathizers.

Between 30 to 35 troopers were stationed at Stone Mountain after Klansmen held a series of meetings in the area to protest the holding of the national convention of the NAACP in nearby Atlanta.

juries. The Klan said one of their members received a broken nose in the fracas.

Tear gas bombs tossed by troopers set the stage for a discussion between Klan leader Calvin Craig and two members of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, Maj. Delmar Jones and Lt. H. A. Poole.

It was agreed that 20 Klansmen would be allowed to climb the mountain for what was termed a "religious ceremony" on top.

MADAM BELL
(English Lady)
YOU KNOW SHE IS NOT A GYPSY

This is her new office at the Mississippi State Line. MADAM BELL is back after a long time of being away and at last she is back to stay in her new home.

Are you Dissatisfied with marriage? Have you lost faith in your husband, wife or sweetheart? Are you in bad health? Are you discouraged? If any of these are your problems, come let MADAM BELL advise you at once. She will read life to you just as she would read an open book. Tell you why your job or business is not a success. If you have failed in the rest come see MADAM BELL at once.

Located on Highway 51 South, just over Mississippi State Line on the way to Hernando. Her home is 2 blocks below where she used to stay right aside the DeSoto Motel. Be sure to look for the RED BRICK HOUSE and you'll find her there at all times. (She Catch yellow bus marked Whitehaven State Line and get off at State Line and walk 2 blocks and see never had an office in West Memphis.)
